3900 South & 500 West; Intersection and Pedestrian Access to Light Rail

2007 Legislative Update

Provided By:

Project Description: CONSTRUCTION, Pedestrian Bridge & Intersection Improvements, Local Government

This project is a partnership between Murray City, Salt Lake County, and UDOT that will improve pedestrian access in the area. The project elements include construction of pedestrian sidewalks and a new bridge along the north side of 3900 South between 500 West and 210 West, near the TRAX station and Salt Lake Community College's Meadowbrook Campus. The intersection of 210 West will also be re-aligned and improved to better accommodate pedestrians. The project calls for the construction of turn lanes in each direction at the intersection of 500 West and 3900 South.

Construction on this project began in late summer 2006 and will continue through spring 2007, when improvements at the intersections begin.

A Public Information Manager has been assigned to this project. For information about construction impacts contact Nicole Donegan, toll-free: 800-252-8929, mobile: 801-556-1796, email: ndonegan@langdongroupinc.com
